Mason bees don't sting, are fun to watch and are low maintenance. Simply hang your bee house in your yard and watch your garden flourish with these incredible pollinators.

Rent Mason Bees is the only company in the country that has a program where you "host" mason bees and return their nesting block in the fall once the developing bees have built their protective cocoons.

Our team removes harmful pests by cleaning each mason bee cocoon and sterilizing all nesting blocks and stores them safely over winter.

Next spring, healthy mason bee cocoons are sent to farmers to pollinate crops such as apple, pear, cherry, and almond. The results are: your garden gets pollinated, healthy bees are put back into the ecosystem and you help farmers produce more food.
